

Colour in the Margins: Colouring Sheet

Prickly Poppy (Papaver argemone)

I am just one species of poppy which can be found growing on the edges of our cornfields. I have bright-orange petals which feel soft and delicate like paper. My seed heads are covered in bristles which give me my prickly name.

BACK FROM THE BRINK

Illustration: Wynona Legg